Thanks for buying another issue of Birthright. This issue I put in some stuff that deals on a more personal note, to me, and my friends. though it may not make a whole lot of sense to anyone but us .. hope you enjoy it. And maybe learn from it. I'd like to thank Redfox and Samurai Girl for bein so good to me through these recent hard times, Trisba for makin' this Poorboy a happyboy. (No I'm not gonna change my pen name.) All those people who I was talking to a while back who said funny stuff like: "yeah I didn't see YOU there hut Poorboy showed up! He's so cool" (it brought a big smile to my face.) And last hut not least, to you few active kids out there, who still strive to make a difference, no matter how futile it seems...its not. Poorboy

The Truth

Well, the time has come my deceived listeners. For what? The truth. For years we've been fed cover up story after story. A consistent line of cover-ups by our very own government. Enough is enough.

the truth must be told about those supposed UFO sigbtings.

We've over told they were weather balloons, and really, how could anyone believe that. I sincerely hope no one was paid to come up with that. And how about that new theory, the one about the spy planes. Yeah, sure. Our dear, dear government was so worried about our safety that they called them planes after like 50 years? Somehow, I don't believe it, I know what they really are. Flying Guard rails.

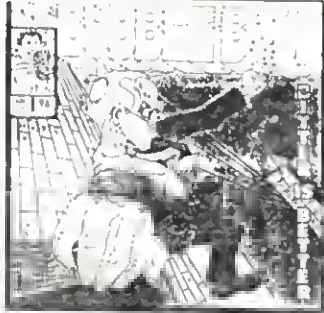

That's right, they work so well on highways that govt. just decided what the hell they can work with planes, too. So far the past 50 years they've been testing them top secretly to avoid naving the media find out about their quadrillion dollar project. And they occasionally have a guard rail break and fall in a burning inferno into some lonely saps cornfield. (crop circles)

So you see, these supposed UFO's are just a misguided effort by our government to make airplanes just a little safer. And while there may be aliens out there, so far there may be aliens out there, so far they're still just watchbing and laughing at us. That is all I can say...For now.

DRINKING IS NOT AN EXCUSE

You know there are plenty of people that drink and that's fine I love to drink, but some of them use drinking as an excuse for what they do. I will state that it is not and never will be in my mind. This has been used as an excuse for centuries so that people can do what ever it is that they wisb to do. But today we must understand that the person has put themselves in this stage for a time being and they do know what they are doing. If someone really believes in something they are not going to do something that will break the moral. I'm sure they really didn't believe in whatever morals they happen to break when they were drunk. There was a show not to long ago that I could not attend but Poorboy did, where a young man stated that he was going to rape one of our good friends. Later he blamed it all on the booze. If he truly believed that rape is such an evil, as be states be does, then he would not have said those words. To that boy, if I see you in my future we shall dance. So many problems have been enlarged do to alcohol. Problems such as cbild abuse, negligence, rape, incest, rash violence, skin heads, preps, jocks, frats, etc. etc. For what ever reason that is used to drink we do not let the alcohol control us; if you are to weak to control it, then you shouldn't be drinking. To those that are going to be drinking and do let it control you please have what it is that you believe to be right and wrong squared away in your head, or pray to a blind folding God that you don't do something you would regret. We are to be making changes in this world, let us not repeat one of the many problems of the world. I never want to ever hear someone ever say "I didn't/don't know what I was/am doing!" for I know that you know of everything that you do, and you shall still bave to take the consequences to your actions.

"Next time I'll break the bottle over yer FUCKIN HEAD." by Poorboy

I went to a show a little while back, it was a good show. Lots of beer lots of fun lots of music. Last Years Youth Played, and so did the Casualties. It was seeming to be the greatest night ever. Problem number 1 surfaced when a girl a used to know showed up and we started to catch up on old times. Apparently this other girl ... who is incidently is mentioned previously inthe issue. (Girl who cired...you know.) Got angry and started claimin that I was ber boyfriend... BULL SHIT. Problem number two arised when I was so angry bout what that dumb bitch saidthat I kicked a bottle...(which broke no where near anyone...) Lots of people break glass at shows, its no big deal but this one ass bole flew at me with a switchblade and cut my knuckles. I got pretty pist.. and he said "throw another bottle and I'll slit your throat". At this time I went psychotic. Bout 10 people tried to pull me back but somebow I kept on breaking free so I could yell "I won't throw no more bottles...NEXT TIME I'LL BREAK ONE OVER YOUR NAZI HEAD FUCKER!" the target of my rage was getting really angry he thought he was pretty cool with his switchblade. The point of this article is: peopleare gonna break bottles and bave a good time at shows and shit, so don't bitch and moan like a gimp if someone breaks a bottle....and don't fucking try to get Poorboy with a switchblade. I got yer name kid and so do some big angry friends of mine. (fuck up!)

DRUMMER BOY IS INNOCENT!

You've probably all heard the story bout the confederacy of scum show and how one of our favorite KC punx sposedly "RAPED" a girl we all know and dislike. We'll call our KC punk friend "drummer boy" and the unrighteously accusing cunt "the girl who cried wolf...." As the story goes apparently drummer boy and the girl who cried wolf were gettin pretty friendly, so the drummer boy went down in full force! Tongue ring and all....and according to eye witnesses, the girl who cried wolf begged him not to stop seeing as she (and I quote) "already came 3 times." so drummer boy kept goin for a while. Until he got sick of it (most likely cause this girl has slept with half the KC male population and must of tasted pretty raught by now.) So drummer boy took to the next step. And after announcing "I got a condom" was givin concent. This all sounds perfectly reasonable until your given the fact that anytime the girl who cries wolf sleeps with anyone, she calls it rape. Its bull shit. She says she's been raped 3 times... when I know for a fact she's just a slut and a compulsive liar. While we're on the topic of the girl who cried wolf, lets talk about Tryin' to Ruin Friend ships. See girl who cried wolf isn't happy less she gets her way. And if she dunt get her way she'll fuck you over hard core and male people into your enemys. Even if there yer friends. A perfect example would be some ex-friends of mine, "mere" and "tre-cool". Mere who supposedly said that I was obsessed and askin' her to leave her boyfriend and all this other shit...

which ended up just bein bull shit from the mouth of the girl who cried wolf....Tre-cool, who is mere's boy toy, was pretty angry when I verbally assaulted his girl on the subject brought up by the girl who cried wolf, and there fore I lost him as well... to Mere and Tre-Cool...I'm sorry. To Drummer boy... I hope this is the clarifiacation you need, to the who cried wolf... get a chastity hlet, to the readers....I know this article probably didn't make much sence hut in mind it was somethin I had to do....I miss all the friends I've lost cause of that cunt.....

Poorboy on Stalkers

Issue number 5 of Birthright attrated some funny company. Seems we have a WANNABE stalker now. How clever. Lets have some originality here kiddo. Leave a dead animal in our mail box or somethin. Or decorate our rooms with valentines or some shit in the middle of October.. That would scare me...but the stuff you've done already was sad. Get a life. We at Birthright challenge you to do something original. (Ps yer drawings suck ass!)

Poorhoy!

We got a Stalker, We got a Stalker.

Well I asked for one and now we've got one. It's a stalker! It seems to be that someone out there wishes to jump my asshole, make Poorboy look like an asshole, and just doesn't like Samurai Girl. This person though should not even be given the title of a stalker for reason such as all they have done is send letters with paper circles cut in half, having odd comments on them, and sick photographs with a series of thoughts. Come on when do we start getting more? I mean if your going to be our stalker then you've go to do more like send all kinds of things saying where I went and who I was with. This person should giving me calls late at night and then hanging up when I pick up. To have pictures of myself sent to me with some sort of evidence that you had masturbated to it. I want more, so here is somewhere to start. Find out my favorite band. Get the band's name of the patch located in the center of Poorboy's back with the colors black and red? What color is Samurai Girls hair?

I have no idea why and don't know if I want to know why but plenty of people around me have been complaining about the opposite sex relationships and about some of the dumbest things. These people need to lower there standards on people, they should get an idea of how the perfect person should be and then judge all the people that they meet by a fictional creator. That's not fair to anyone, for there is no way for anyone to know exactly what it is that you are looking for. Now it's true we all have an idea of what we would like in a dream person, but realize that is and dream and should not be used to judge who ever. Let go the annoyed feelings that you gain when the others person dose one of those small annoying things. I bet you have just about the same amount of annoying habits, and that all of them are hated by the other. So let them go, don't let them get to you, we all have them and there is no way of getting rid of them.

person and yea they have a good body but you see there is this birthmark (wart, moles, hangnail.) that I just can't stand." What the name of Conaus God's Cruin are you talking about. Would some of you out there let go of the person that may turn out to be the one cuss of some kind of physical feature that they, you, or any on else can control? "Well when I do go out with someone they always do something that I can't live or there morals on some case (hopefully more than one) are so far from mine that I can't be with them any more." Well do test on them. There is nothing wrong with doing a moral test to see what it is that they believe in. You can always just ask of course, but a test may be more effective. I would not suggest a physical test like you dress in disguise and set the person up with your best friend to see if they would cheat, I my self would get real piss off about something like that. There isn't anything that I can think of that would be a good example of a test other then my own and mine are real personal. When you do test thought it would be good to have a bonding time then. Look all I can really say is when you meet someone don't judge them with some kind of prethought of cartoon that no one could ever fit into. If you feel an attraction to them, then find out about them seeing if they are right for you. Do tests to see if it will last, so lower your God Damn Standards!

Insanlty

A silent itch,
Within your mind.
A blackness,
In your thoughts.
A voice,
That never leaves you.
A song,
That has no words.

Insanity,
You know it is.
But lock it,
In a box.

A cry,
They'll never hear,
A peace,
You'll never feel.
The laughs,
They'll never cease.
The silence,
Always an appeal.

Insanity,
You know it is.
But lock it,
In a box.

The hopes,
Always stifled.
The dreams,
Seem within the mist.
The happiness,
Is just a myth.
You,
The world's joke.

Insanity,
You know it is.
But lock it,
In a box.

The hate,
You keep within.
The fear,
No one will see.
It isn't you,
that needs the help.
Or at least,
So it does seem.

Insanity,
They think it is,
But lock you,
In a box.

It is my hopes that if we could give meaning back into the penny, give it something worth while again that we might be able to keep them from ever getting rid of the damn thing. We could do so much with it! The Penny has so much potential that we could start more organizations to help people, have more fountains for people to enjoy and be able to have that feeling that they do have dreams and that they maybe still possible to reach with a wish in water. But now I need you help, for I am stuck, and frustrated to the end. I wish to be able to propose an idea to twenty of the Nations largest organizations to be able to place a box, many box's, or fountains or just whatever it is to collect pennies in convenience places around the US. Then every day just once a day if we all could give that one penny we find a day, or one of the many pennies we get for change in these spots, then there would be a very large income for the organizations to be

Cents or sensibility? Penny's future disrussed

By: The Associated Press
Date: 07/17/96

WASHINGTON - Benjamin Franklin would have been appalled "A nickel saved is a nickel earned," wouldn't have the same ring. Neither would "A dime for your thoughts." The subject of a congressional hearing Tuesday, called by Rep Michael N. Castle, Republican of Delaware, was "Future of the Penny." Oh, yes, he denied that he wanted to do away with the penny, but everyone there knew different. "We have no legislation in hand and no present intention of offering any on this subject," said Castle, chairman of the House Banking Committee's subcommittee on Domestic and International Monetary Policy. Later, however, Castle said, "The time will come (when) it will no longer make practical or economic sense to continue producing a coin that does not circulate and whose costs outweigh its benefits."

Americans love pennies. They hoard so many of them. In the last 30 years, said the General Accounting Office's J. William Gadsby, the U.S. Mint put 288 billion pennies into circulation - $2.88 billion - and it estimates that only 132 billion are in use. What happened to the rest? Well, they are in jars and sacks. They've been made into bracelets depicting the Golden Gate Bridge. They hang from ears, rest in loafers, get flattened on railroad tracks, are thrown into fountains, end up in fuse boxes and roll down grates.

able to work with. Every year the twenty or so would change but back to the point that I need help is that I can't make the proposal unless I know the date that the vote took place on. I can't find it!!! If any one would please help me find it that there costs would be greatly appreciated. Also I would love to bear if most of you would give just one penny a day. That's only $3.65 a year out of your pocket.

Redfox

OK what are you doing.

About two issues ago I wrote an article on cheating and how if you cheat it like sticking you arm in a blender. Well some of you don't believe me. Sense I've written the article I noticed that it happened more often, or that I was finally seeing it here. One problem that I have is that these people when they don't have a girl they complain that girls suck and that they always go for assholes, but when they do get one they also might find another girl do to the fact they aren't trying to be a smooth character. So someone else will see them as a nice guy so know our nice guy is full of themselves and is proving his own point that girls (I don't believe this line myself) do only go for assholes such as himself. Then one of the girls finds out about the other and all goes to hell and our little yuppie then wonder why such a pimp guy as him self can't get a girl. In most cases that happen in either sex it is do to the fact that one or the other is not being satisfied by the relationship. If your not happy leave. You should be able to tell if you are or not with the time that you are with the person. If you don't spend time with the person or find that you don't like to be around then either talk to them about it and change the problem, or leave the relationship. We got a response of the article before this for some guy on the internet. One of the things that he kept saying was that he's parents eheated one another, then got a divorce. He kept telling us that it healthy to cheat as long as you don't get caught. What the fuck are talking about kid. First your parents cheat on each other, you see the destructiveness and you still continue the destructive cycle. You need some help. NO, NO, you don't need help, you need to blow your god damn thick sculled, blind folded, just plain stupid, and ignorant lead off. I hope your girl friend finds out about all the times you've eheated on her and she takes a butchers cleaver to you. Please kill yourself you are just wasting the time of people and are creating problems that don't need to be around. Look my point is that this is not something that you should do. It is destructive and painful to those you seem to love so much. Get out of the bad relationship or fix it. For those of you who have good relationships please don't cheat and help others so that they ~~can~~ do the same.

'The US Penny

It has come to my attention that some time in the year of 1996 a vote was taken to rid the penny. I see that this would be disaster to us and everyone else in the country. I can't help but think that we already have the money system down to a point, of even that the penny is divided into hundredths when we buy things, if you don't believe me go fill up on gas and see it for yourself. The penny at this point keeps everything at a stable weight where we can round up or down to an even number that doesn't cost us a thing for there are so many pennies (228 billion) that if you are short you can go find one on the side of the street. Every one thinks of the Penny as if it could buy anything, could make a difference in the world. If it weren't for the penny some of the organizations in the world would not have been started. There would be more people that are in the need still in the need, for you see many of the places that we see fit to discard them are sometimes things that collect and put them to good use. Such as fountains, gumball machines, those funnel things that you roll your coins down, and those bubbles things at Burger King (they give you a free meal if you land one of those, so a good tip to those that have nothing but a dollar) Nickels, witch if the pennies were to be rid of, would be the smallest amount of money, and you don't see those around much now do you! And you won't for you can still do plenty with it that the penny one had the power to do. Plus it's just no the same as the penny. People say that it coast us too much to even print the penny, but to let you know it would coast us plenty more if it was gotten rid of. If the money system would be rounded up to the nearest cent (Nickel) their would end up being a large inflation everywhere around us, then make the Nickel just worth the same that the Penny was.. It is a guess that at least $600 million extra would be charged onto the American public with the round up on tax's and do to the round up and it is impossible to tell bow much it is that it would coast us with the new prices that companies see fit to set on us to pay for
